

“Return to the Gilded Age”

Following four sold-out trips down the runway, the competition returns on May 1st, 2015 as design firms and product representatives flaunt their creativity and technical skills by producing couture fashion constructed of interior finish materials.

Lift a glass and marvel at the garment of carpet, laminate, or ceramic tile that brings to life the Gilded Age. The rivalry is fierce and glamour awaits. The Northwest design community’s celebration of all things wonderful promises to yet again be the design event of the year.

All proceeds benefit IDCW’s advocacy for interior design legislation, NCIDQ scholarships for interior design professionals, and Rebuilding Together, Seattle.
